ORDINANCES, 1871-2022

Arrangement: Chronological by year filed and thereunder alphabetical by name of city or county

Scope and Content

This series consists of ordinances, which are statutes or regulations enacted by a city or county, and provide for various services such as police protection, fire districts, sewer districts, emergency 911 services. More recent subjects include codes of ethics (conflict of interest) and land annexations. Some files include cooperative agreements or contracts in lieu of, or in addition to, ordinances but these are now considered non-permanent records. The ordinances found here are only those required to be filed in the office of the secretary and comprise only a small fraction of a city or county's ordinances. The only exceptions are those cities that sent bound volumes or supplements of their ordinances.
