Title 6—DEPARTMENT OF HIGHER EDUCATION

Chapter 6—Establishment of New Institutions and Instructional Sites

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

By the authority vested in the commissioner of Department of Higher Education under sections 178.770 through 178.820, RSMo Supp. 2002, the commissioner amends a rule as follows:

6 CSR 10-6.010 is amended.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed amendment was published in the Missouri Register on May 15, 2003 (28 MoReg 956–958). No changes have been made to the text of the proposed amendment, however the title of the rule has been changed to reflect the intent of the amendment. Additionally the private fiscal note has been revised and is printed here. This proposed amendment becomes effective thirty (30) days after publication in the Code of State Regulations.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: No comments were received. After the publication of the proposed amendment, the Department of Higher Education received additional information concerning the costs related to the amendment and the number of areas in the state that may have an interest in the establishment of a new community college. As a consequence, the private entity cost statement will be changed.

6 CSR 10-6.010 Standards for Establishing Community College Districts

REVISED PRIVATE COST: The cost of this amendment to private entities may range from zero to one hundred twenty thousand dollars ($0–$120,000) versus the less than five hundred dollars ($500), which was submitted with the original amendment.

REVISED FISCAL NOTE PRIVATE COST

I. RULE NUMBER

Rule Number and Name:	6 CSR 10-6.010 Standards for Establishing Community College Districts
Type of Rulemaking:	Proposed Amendment

II. SUMMARY OF FISCAL IMPACT

Estimate of the number of entities by class which would likely be affected by adoption of the proposed rule:	Classification by types of the business entities which would likely be affected:	Estimate in the aggregate as to the cost of compliance with the rule by the affected entities:
0 - 3	Citizen Committee	$0 - $120,000

III. WORKSHEET

There are two components of the process required by the Coordinating Board for Higher Education for seeking approval to hold an election on the question of establishing a new public community college that require the expenditure of money to complete. Those components and the estimated cost for each are listed below.

Feasibility Study:	$22,500
Consultant:	$12,500
Total Estimated Cost per Study	$40,000

IV. ASSUMPTIONS

The purpose of the rule is to determine if a local initiative to establish a public community college meets the statutory requirements relating to local need, adequate assessed valuation, and projected enrollment. As a consequence, the estimated costs reflected in this fiscal note are those related to completing a study of the local area's satisfaction of those requirements. Department procedures for that study require a) employment of a mutually agreeable consultant with expertise in community colleges and research methods and b) completion of a feasibility study addressing the issues of need, assessed value and enrollment.

The cost estimates contained in the worksheet above are based on information provided by the citizen group most recently pursuing community college formation, the first in approximately 10 years. Because of the amount of time between studies and the possible variations in local costs associated with these items, actual costs may fluctuate depending on the area of the state in which the study is conducted and the amount of time that elapses between studies. No attempt was made to reflect this variability in the fiscal note.

The decision to pursue the establishment of a new public community college is based solely on local initiative. The rule does not mandate or require any business entity or other nonpublic organization to undertake a study of community college formation or expend the money related to that study. Local citizen groups, formed for the purpose of determining interest in and demonstrating satisfaction of the CBHE guidelines for holding an election, typically undertake these initiatives and seek funding for that purpose from local citizens and businesses.

Based on known local interest at this time, it is assumed there are no more than three areas of the state with an interest in community college formation that meet the revised minimum standards but do not meet the previous standards. Proposed community college districts can potentially include any number and configuration of contiguous public school districts. That fact, coupled with the infrequent nature of these requests (one proposal in the last ten years), makes it impossible to accurately determine if any additional districts will attempt to meet the revised standards for minimum enrollment contained in the amended rule. As a consequence, the summary of fiscal impact contains an estimated range of costs from no new proposals ($0) to a maximum of three ($120,000).

As population patterns change and local communities grow or contract in terms of their population, the number of communities that will satisfy the new requirements may change in the long term. No attempt has been made to predict these shifts and it is assumed these costs reflect the total for the life of the rule.
